Introduction

N. N. Ghosh Sanatan Teacher Training College, in association with the Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC), inaugurated the 6-Day Swachhata, Environmental Awareness & Sustainability Programme on 1 October 2026 under Special Campaign 6.0–2026. The programme aims to promote cleanliness, sanitation, environmental responsibility, sustainable practices and active participation among students and members of the college community.

Objectives of the Programme

- To promote cleanliness and sanitation across the college campus.
- To build environmental awareness among student-teachers and staff.
- To encourage sustainable practices such as the 3Rs (Reduce, Reuse, Recycle), plastic-free living and responsible e-waste handling.
- To foster active participation, teamwork and a sense of social responsibility in the college community.
- To document the activities and best practices as part of the institution's quality enhancement efforts through IQAC.

Inauguration Proceedings

The programme was inaugurated on the morning of 1 October 2026 in the college hall, which was decorated with balloons and streamers in green, yellow and purple. The programme banner, “Clean Campus | Green Campus | Sustainable Future”, was displayed on the digital screen. Faculty members, non-teaching staff and student-teachers attended the inauguration.

The inaugural session was addressed by members of the faculty and the IQAC team, who spoke on the purpose of the campaign, its day-wise activities and the importance of keeping the campus clean and green. Participants were encouraged to take an active part in every activity during the programme and to carry the message of cleanliness and sustainability into their schools and communities as future teachers.
